300 Series Stainless Steel Self-Drilling BI-METAL fastener

Wing Drill Screw range

Stainless Steel Screw with drill point in hardened steel

Drilling and tapping in one operation

For wood on steel without pre-drilling

Wings break away when the screw penetrates the steel
The wings make an enlarged hole in the wood and will break away when the screw penetrates the steel. This prevents the thread from gripping into the wood and thereby lifting it while drilling through the steel.